This course surveys the art of Europe and North America from the fourteenth to the twentieth centuries. You will learn to distinguish period styles in addition to understanding how visual forms are bound up with their cultural, political, and religious contexts. Experience how art historical knowledge can change the way you see your world.